Opis produktu

This replacement adjustable sideshifter will allow you to shorten the side to side movement of your gear shift in order to obtain the optimum shifting times required for performance driving . You can personally customise the lateral movement to suit your own preference due to an infinitely adjustable pivot mechanism. Click on the 'fitting guide' tab above, for detailed instructions. This unit will fit all VAG 6 speed gear boxes as found in the vehicles listed in the 'compatible vehicles' tab above. (Please note: this does not fit the Skoda Fabia/VW Polo/Seat Ibiza/1.9 diesel applications)

Up to and including 2007 models, the original side to side shifting mechanism on these vehicles should be made of metal with the 2008 and onwards models having the original side to side mechanism made of plastic. (on all models the throw or front to back mechanism is made of metal) We supply within the kit the necessary parts to allow fitment to both types.

Please note: To ensure that this product functions correctly and does not stress associated components, it is essential that the linkage cables are re-adjusted after the installation of this product, as per the fitting instructions.
