FMSP3 is the Forge Motorsport Blow off adaptor for the Alfa Giulia/Stelvio & Jeep Wrangler 2.0T. The spacer is a pressure release system that has been designed by our CAD team and utilises a well proven design which is tried and tested. It is used with the OEM diverter valve to vent extra boost air into the atmosphere instead of sending it back into the engine's intake piping, which helps with turbo longevity.

This product has been developed specifically to avoid any engine check lights appearing and will work on standard and tuned vehicles without issue. FMSP3 is manufactured at Forge Motorsport UK HQ in Gloucester and uses 6082 aerospace grade aluminium in its construction, which is then polished to a beautiful finish. The result is a product which not only looks fabulous but sounds very purposeful too, giving off the traditional blow off valve sound.
