Opis produktu

Give your CTR the cooling power it desperately needs with the Mishimoto 2017+ Honda Civic Type R Performance Aluminium Radiator. Honda's top-rung Civic took the hot-hatchback world by storm, but there's still one thing that's holding it back – heat. The K20C1 is quite the powerhouse in the Civic, but the stock cooling system just can't keep up. Mishimoto is here with a more durable and efficient cooling solution for your FK8. For starters, we ditched the skinny core and plastic end tanks for a full aluminium, TIG-welded construction, sure to stand up to abuse on the street, track or drag strip. Our design also features a 40mm thick core, increasing core volume by 48% and external fin surface area by 102% for maximum heat dissipation properties. Our core also incorporates strutted tubes for maximum durability. The 2017+ Honda Civic Type R Performance Aluminium Radiator is available in a polished finish and includes our magnetic drain plug to collect any metallic debris in your cooling system. This radiator is covered under the Mishimoto Lifetime Warranty for a worry-free installation.
