Opis produktu

Keep your Z on the road and out of the shop with the Mishimoto Nissan 350Z Performance Aluminum Radiator! Every high-performance vehicle demands a cooling system that can maintain temperatures during both routine and competitive driving. The Mishimoto 350Z performance radiator features all-aluminum construction and precision robotic TIG-welding for consistency and durability. This radiator features a thick, 2-row brazed aluminum core capable of reducing coolant temperatures significantly. This radiator also includes a Mishimoto 1.3 Bar High Pressure Radiator Cap, which effectively raises the boiling point of your coolant to create a safer and more efficient system. The Mishimoto 350Z Performance Aluminum Radiator features a magnetic oil drain plug with dowty seal and robust threads for durable repeated installation and superior protection against leaks. The sturdy aluminum end tanks feature a subtle brushed finish that complements any engine bay perfectly! As with all our products, this aluminum radiator includes the Mishimoto Lifetime Warranty, ensuring superior product quality and craftsmanship.
