Opis produktu

The revolutionary WagnerTuning high performance intercooler for the VW T6 with 2.0 liter BiTDI engine!

Boost the power and performance of your vehicle to a whole new level. Our high performance intercooler replaces the water-cooled intercooler of the indirect charge air cooling circuit and brings you a multitude of advantages.

With impressive dimensions of 150mm x 185mm x 114mm and a new type of performance intercooler core, this intercooler is specifically designed to meet the high demands of the VW engine. Compared to the original intercooler, it offers an amazing 106% more external core volume. The intelligent ratio between the inner and outer cooling surfaces ensures maximum heat transfer while allowing optimal internal airflow. Through CAD design and CFD simulations, the cast aluminum end boxes have been perfected to provide excellent cooling characteristics with minimal back pressure. The result is optimal cooling of the supercharged air and a significant increase in performance for your engine.

Our WagnerTuning intercoolers feature a high-quality heat-conductive anti-corrosion coating that ensures long-lasting cooling performance and protects your vehicle from the elements. Installation of the system is straightforward and plug-and-play thanks to our detailed installation instructions, so you can quickly reap the benefits.

The benefits of this product at a glance:

- Significantly improved cooling capacity for optimum performance
- More power and torque for your engine
- Mechanical relief of the turbocharger for a longer service life
- 100% pressure resistance and reliable performance under all conditions
- Easy installation thanks to plug-and-play system
- Up to 4 years warranty for a worry-free driving experience

Boost the performance of your VW T6 with the WagnerTuning high-performance intercooler and enjoy a top-notch driving experience. Get the upgrade your vehicle deserves now!
