Opis produktu

Experience the ultimate performance boost with the new high-performance intercooler for your Porsche Macan 3.0 TDI.

With its impressive features, this intercooler sets new standards in performance and cooling. Discover the benefits of a larger charge air volume and an expanded inflow area for maximum performance.

The high-performance intercooler impresses with its high-quality Competition high-performance intercooler core with internal turbulators. With dimensions of 610 mm x 440 mm x 65 mm and a core volume of 17,446 liters, it offers a 178% larger incident flow area and 158% more charge air volume compared to the standard intercooler. Despite its size, this intercooler impresses with a weight of just 9.1 kg. The cast aluminum end boxes were developed using state-of-the-art CAD technology and optimized using CFD simulations to ensure ideal internal airflow. An innovative integrated air guide in the end box ensures even filling of the Competition high-performance core. With an enlarged connection diameter of Ø67 mm and reinforced silicone hoses, this kit impresses with minimal back pressure compared to the standard charge air cooler.

The high-performance charge air cooler is equipped with a high-quality anti-corrosion coating that provides excellent heat conduction properties. This ensures permanent and optimal cooling, resulting in a significant increase in performance. Installation of the complete ready-to-install kit is simple and is accomplished by replacing the stock intercooler.

This high performance intercooler has been rigorously tested and is pressure stable up to 6 bar. Rely on the high quality of our products, which are subject to constant qualitative monitoring. Whether on the road or the race track, this intercooler is the perfect choice for your Porsche Macan 3.0 TDI.

Discover the unique combination of advanced technology, impressive performance and outstanding cooling effect with the high-performance intercooler for your new Porsche Macan. Enhance your driving dynamics and experience the full potential of your vehicle.
