Opis produktu

20-0806 FUEL HANGER FPR BLOCK-OFF

The following fuel hanger surge tanks: 20-0970, 20-0972, 20-1970, 20-1972 can be converted from a built-in regulator dead head system, to a return style system. We understand some users want to run an engine bay mounted regulator with a return line back to the tank. This kit makes that possible. The parts in the kit disable the built-in regulator allowing the use of an external regulator elsewhere in the system. The hanger top plate features a return port that can be used for the return line from the external regulator.

NOTE: A fuel pressure regulator (not included) must be installed downstream in the system. This procedure is not discussed in the instructions.
