With excellent temperature resistance, it has a dry boiling point of 318°C and a wet boiling point of 210°C well above the limits of standard DOT 4 fluid (260°C and 180°C respectively). This high performance fluid provides consistent and durable braking even in extreme conditions. Thanks to its optimal viscosity, it offers a very good pedal feel and is remarkably effective at low temperatures. GReddy Super D4 is recommended by the manufacturer for use in street or racing applications in vehicles with high braking capabilities.
