Opis produktu

Unleash the full potential of your BMW 3.0 liter B58.1 turbo engine with the revolutionary Wagner Tuning intake manifold with integrated intercooler. This innovative upgrade takes your performance to a new level and provides the ultimate driving experience. Featuring a new type of performance intercooler core designed specifically for the high demands of the B58.1 engine, the Wagner Tuning intake manifold offers an impressive 128% increase in external intercooler core volume compared to the original intercooler. The optimal ratio between inner and outer cooling surface achieves maximum heat transfer while ensuring optimal internal airflow. Thanks to advanced CFD simulations, the CNC-machined end boxes have been designed for optimal airflow conditions, resulting in outstanding cooling performance with minimal backpressure. This kit is therefore also ideal for racing and guarantees optimal cooling of the charged air with a significant increase in performance. The Wagner Tuning intercoolers are also equipped with a heat-conducting anti-corrosion coating, which ensures a durable and efficient cooling effect. Installation of the system is straightforward thanks to our simple installation instructions, allowing for a plug and play experience. The benefits of this product are many: - Significantly improved cooling performance with up to 20° lower intake air temperatures. - Maximum relief of the turbocharger with 35% less backpressure - More power and torque for your engine - 100% pressure resistance for optimal safety - Plug and play without modifications - Pre-prepared intake manifold injection (Fuel Rail optionally) - Three 1/8 NPT ports for additional parameter measurement - Six prepared NOS or WMI ports (for example 90° NOS Nozzles 1/16 NPT) - Suitable for all power levels - Up to 4-year warranty for peace of mind - Important oil service information: the oil filter can still be replaced without re-disassembling the intake manifold! Get ready to rule the road and unlock your engine's full potential. Choose the Wagner Tuning intake manifold with integrated intercooler and experience a whole new dimension of power and performance!
