Opis produktu

Mishimoto has developed a carbon fiber radiator cap to enhance the style of your engine bay while maintaining the pressure in your cooling system. Getting the most out of your performance parts comes down to the details. When faced with hard driving conditions, a vehicle's cooling system becomes highly pressurized. OEM caps are not equipped to handle higher pressure, causing fluid to leak out into the overflow reservoir. The Mishimoto radiator cap is rated at a higher pressure and will keep coolant where it needs to be-flowing within the system. The sleek carbon fiber exterior will add an unexpected touch of style. Constructed from hand laid carbon fiber. Rated at 1.3 Bar (19 lbs pressure). Fits most import vehicles. Raises the boiling point of engine coolant to provide a safer and more efficient cooling system. Ergonomically designed for easy removal and installation. Installing a new cap can prevent overheating and cooling system failure. Pressure Tolerance: 1.3 Bar / Fits: 31-32mm Fill Necks / Note: Will not fit stock KTM radiators. Mishimoto Lifetime Warranty
