Opis produktu

Getting the most out of your performance parts comes down to the details. When faced with hard driving conditions, a vehicle's cooling system becomes highly pressurized. Stock caps are not equipped to handle higher pressure, causing fluid to leak out into the overflow reservoir. The Mishimoto High-Pressure 1.3 Bar Radiator Cap is rated at a higher pressure and will keep coolant where it needs to be- flowing within the system. Rated at 1.3 Bar (19lbs) pressure. Fits most domestic vehicles. Raises the boiling point of engine coolant to provide a safer and more efficient cooling system. Ergonomically designed for easy removal and installation. Installing a new cap can prevent overheating and cooling system failure. Pressure Tolerance: 1.3 Bar / Fits: 42mm Fill Necks. Mishimoto Lifetime Warranty.
