Opis produktu

Rubber is out and silicone is in for your 2015 WRX! The Mishimoto silicone ancillary hose kit for the 2015+ Subaru WRX is designed to improve the reliability of your 2015 WRX and eliminate weak points found with the stock rubber hoses. We have carefully selected 12 2015 WRX hoses, both PCV and coolant lines, which we found can easily be replaced and benefit from the use of silicone. Mishimoto silicone hoses are crafted from four layers of silicone with heat-resistant embedded fibers to provide improved pressure and heat tolerance. PCV lines are commonly exposed to fine particles of oil which, over time, degrade the rubber and lead to eventual failure. Mishimoto 2015 WRX silicone hoses have substantially greater resilience to these particles, providing a hose that will endure the test of time. Each hose included in this 2015 WRX kit is designed with stock specifications in mind, resulting in a direct-fit replacement that is easy to install. Whether you are entering your 2015 WRX in the local rallycross, or lapping at your next track day, trust Mishimoto and our line of 2015 WRX parts to keep your WRX cool. This 2015 WRX hose kit is available in black, blue, or red and, like our entire line of 2015 WRX parts, includes the signature Mishimoto Lifetime Warranty.
