Fuel level sending units for motorsports, aftermarket fuel cells
Fits the most common fuel cells including Pyrotect, ATL, Fuel Safe, Harmon, Premiere, Jaz, and more, and is the perfect match for the Nuke Performance Competition Fuel Cell Unit. Ordered with our without fuel level gauge.

I have lost my adapter plate/spacer for the fuel level sender unit, can I order a new one? My fuel level sender unit doesn´t fit the mounting point in the CFC Unit, what should I do?
An adapter plate/spacer is needed to either mount a fuel level sender that has a wider diameter than the hole in the CFC Unit or uses the common asymmetric 5 bolt pattern often found on aftermarket fuel level senders. The spacer/adapter plate is included with all Nuke Performance CFC Units when purchased, if lost you can order a replacement plate. You find a detailed mounting description in the CFC Unit product manual here.
5-bolt asymmetric adapter plate Part #: 150-10-117

Approved for all types of fuels, for all types of motorsports
Approved for petrol, methanol, and ethanol. Available in several different lengths, choose the size when placing an order. If ordered together with a fuel cell we will make sure that you get the right one delivered with your order.

Order the fuel level gauge without a fuel level sending unit
If you need a fuel level gauge and already purchased your sending unit, you can buy the gauge as an accessory if needed.
