Opis produktu

Tired of staring at that cheap, brittle plastic oil filter housing every time you lift your hood? Us too, and that's why RacingLine have come up with this beautiful billet Oil Filter Housing to replace it. Prevent the problems of warped and cracked plastic housings forevermore. It's all about the details, and that includes your engine compartment. That's RacingLine have come up with this stunning billet Oil Filter Housing to replace that cheap, brittle plastic oil filter housing. But it's not just about appearances. This quality part starts life as a solid billet of 6061 aerospace-grade aluminum, meaning you can forget about the problems of cracked plastic housings forevermore. It's made to match OEM dimensions right down to the original factory size hex nut. The Oil Filter Housing accepts the stock factory engine oil filter dimensions to maintain simplicity and keep that OEM fitment for your future oil changes. As you'd expect from RacingLine, it's meticulously machined with the latest CNC 5-axis technology. It's then hand-polished, then gloss-anodized Midnight Black with laser-etched logos to stay beautiful year after year.
