Opis produktu

BARP is proud to offer and present to the international and national public, the line of the most resistant main and head stud in the world. Made of maraging 300, (currently the most tenacious metal discovered and known) tested up to 10 BAR of turbo boost and up to 1500 HP per cylinder its used in tractor pulling engine and Top Fuel engine. They have strenght of over 220 kg/mm2 (335,000 PSI), 30% greater than the current reference material, the Custom Age 625. This type of studs bolt kit is the absolute top and is used on very high power engines, withstanding stresses beyond any limit in an excellent way. Using BARP studs realized in MARAGING 300, the possibility of any failure or movement of the tightened parts will be completely eliminated. They represent the obligatory choice for those who want to go beyond the limit and want to exclude the possibility of failure from this type of component.
