Opis produktu

These fuel tubing kits are commonly used for plumbing in-tank submerged fuel pumps. The flexible convoluted tubing is manufactured from polyamide nylon and is therefore resistant to all fuel types including alcohol blends such as E85 and suitable for EFI fuel pressure. There are 2 inner diameter sizes available including 5/16" (8mm) and 3/8" (10mm). When installing, run hot water over the ends first to loosen the material. This allows the tubing to fit snugly over the barb. Next, torque the reusable stainless steel SAE J1508 clamps to 13.3 in-lbs. These clamps provide a 360 degree seal with rolled edges to protect the tubing. NOTE: All tubes are translucent white excluding 20-0875 (above) and 20-0895 which are opaque black.
