Opis produktu

Coolant Expansion Tank FMIC.Pro for Subaru BRZ Toyota GT86 2013-2020 The FMIC.Pro coolant expansion tank is a high-quality replacement for the factory plastic reservoir, designed to provide increased durability and stable cooling system performance in Subaru BRZ and Toyota GT86 vehicles. Unlike the factory solution, which degrades over time due to high temperatures and repeated heating and cooling cycles, the aluminum FMIC.Pro tank eliminates the risk of cracking, leaks, and coolant loss. During dynamic driving and intensive use of the cooling system, factory tanks may struggle with excess pressure and temperature. The FMIC.Pro tank provides adequate volume reserve and maintains a stable coolant level even during aggressive road and track driving. The integrated sight window allows quick and convenient coolant level inspection without the need to remove any components.

- fully aluminum construction, TIG welded
- significantly higher resistance to temperature and pressure compared to the factory tank
- installation without interference with the factory cooling system
- sight tube for quick coolant level checking
- compatible with the factory cap
- finish resistant to temperature and corrosion
- designed for intensive road and track use

Kit includes:

- FMIC.Pro aluminum coolant expansion tank
- cap
